Experience Oxfordshire is pleased to promote the many wonderful cultural events, shows, exhibitions and festivals that take place across the city and county. There's always something going on in Oxfordshire, for all interests and ages. Check our calendar to see what events are on tonight, this weekend, or during your future visit.

Mini Grey presents: The Bad Bunnies' Magic show at The Story Museum

Saturday 3rd June: Bring your little ones along to join Mini and the odd Bad Bunny find out about the history of magic. Children are invited to make their own magic mini-book, and enjoy a performance of Mini's latest book; the Bad Bunnies' Magic show. www.storymuseum.org.uk

While We're Here at the North Wall Arts Centre

Tuesday 6th - Thursday 8th June: Once lovers whose lives went in different directions, Eddie and Carol find that something still burns between them when they meet again on a park bench in a town full of memories, whilst searching for the centre of their lives. But will they let go of the past for the sake of their futures? Alice Hamilton's productions of other Barney Norris plays have been described as 'heartbreaking' (New York Times), 'outstanding' (Times) and 'astonishing' (Evening Standard). ### H.M.S. Pinafore with Opera Anywhere

Saturday 17th June: Presented by Opera Anywhere, this tale of mismatched love across different social classes finds captain's daughter Josephine in love with lowly sailor Ralph, much to her father's disdain. Will love prevail? Climb aboard to find out and enjoy a feast of fun along the way! www.operaanywhere.com

Abingdon Food Festival

Saturday 24th June: Around 100 stalls of wonderful artisan food and drink produce to sample, take home or to eat in the huge picnic area beside the Thames. Plus cookery demonstrations, the final of the schools Bake-It competition and lots of cookery activities for children to do. As well as celebrating great food, soak up the festival atmosphere with live music from local bands.
